Most Popular Articles of 2017

WEEKLY EDITION - DECEMBER 20, 2017

Edition viewable on any device.

From FFI Practitioner

It's that time of the year – the time when everyone in publishing cites the most popular or most read articles and books for the year!

So here's FFI Practitioner's contribution to these illustrious lists. We're doing ours by month – so you can see what your colleagues were reading all year long.
January

Prenuptial Agreements - Uncomfortable and Necessary
by Mitzi Perdue

February

Getting Everybody on the Same Page (By Getting Everything on One Page)
by Steve Legler

March

The Inescapable Influence of Money on the Family Enterprise
by Randy Waesche

April

Succession: The multiple considerations of holistic planning
by Glenn Murray

May

Lesson for Family Advisors: “Not all pain is harmful”
by John Engels

June

Selling the Family Business? Set up a Family Office First!
by Ashvini Chopra

July

Managing Family Business Succession: A six step process
by Thomas Zellweger

August

Tools for Exploring the Family Business System: Some examples and some thoughts
by Luke Simmering

September

The Generational Maze: The power grid for procreative wealth
by Lisa Niemeier
October

Direct Investing: Can this be the second coming for the family business?
by Kirby Rosplock

November

by Justin Blake

December

Too soon to tell but for now, we're declaring a tie between:

Research Applied: FBR Précis for FFI Practitioner
by Alberto Gimeno

Advisors to the Next Generation – An interview with two next gen donors by Sharna Goldseker & Michael Moody

Thanks to all the authors this year and to the editorial committee which organized the special conference-related articles in April, August and November.

If you want to write in 2018, go here for guidelines and to submit an article.